ABOUT THE SHOW

The Great Christmas Feast is TLE's immersive adaptation of Dickens's A Christmas Carol, and celebrates its 7th year in production.

It's Christmas Eve, 1843 and Dickens is preparing his famous annual feast at his home where this year he will give a special reading of his new Christmas story to his nearest and dearest. Scored for one performer and three musicians, TGCF is a virtuosic, tour de force performance for our lead actor, Alex Phelps (returning to the role), as he brings to life the story through storytelling, physical theatre, music and production magic.

ABOUT THE ROLE

The Wardrobe Supervisor is responsible for the laundry, maintenance and repairs of all performer and FOH costumes and uniforms. You will also be responsible for maintaining wigs and stocking makeup for performers. You will use on-site laundry facilities as well as dry cleaning services where required. Much of the role will be performed during daytime hours, but we expect you to be present until curtain up, to ensure performers are properly into costume and ready for stage.

This is an exciting, challenging and rewarding role that is well suited to someone who has held wardrobe and/or costume roles in theatre or live events. We are looking for someone with at least 3-5 year's experience in these disciplines, ideally within theatre and/or immersive productions.
